

Way Cleared for Gillham Dam Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U. S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele today cleared the way for resumption of construction of the Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River by dismissing a suit filed by environmentalists seeking to block completion of the project.

Eisele temporarily halted the project Feb. 19, 1971 because he found that the Army Engineers had not filed an adequate environmental impact statement as required by the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The project was about 60 per cent complete when work was halted.

In today's opinion, Eisele dissolved the temporary injunction. He said that if he had interpreted the NEPA correctly, the plaintiffs "cannot look to the judiciary to reverse or modify any decision with respect to the building of the embankment across the Cossatot."

Eisele said that if the decision to build the dam is to be changed "it must be through the actions of the appropriate decision-makers in the executive or legislative branches."

"The judiciary can delay the construction of the dam pending compliance by the defendants with the congressionally mandated provisions of the NEPA but, ultimately, plaintiffs' only chance to stop the dam...lies in their ability...to convince the decision-makers of the wisdom and correctness of their views on the merits," Eisele wrote.

Eisele said he did not believe that Congress "intended that the NEPA be used as a vehicle for continual delay and postponement of legislative and executive decisions."

NTA Ban Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government asked detergent manufacturers today to continue their 18-month-old voluntary ban on NTA, once hailed as a miracle laundry product, until scientists can determine whether the chemical poses a human-health hazard.

The announcement by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare was based on a review by nine non-government scientists of previous studies on the health effects of nitrilotriacetic acid, NTA.

The decision is a blow to the soap industry, which had hoped to recover some of the $20-million loss when NTA was taken out of laundry products in December 1970.

No Injuries in Accident

Mrs. Kenneth Bazar of Hope was involved in a one vehicle accident on Interstate 30 near the weigh station late Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Bazar was traveling in the westbound lane when a vehicle entering the interstate from the weigh station forced her into the inside lane and over into the median. She lost control of the car when it hit the shoulder of the median. The car went through the median fence and struck a tree.

Mrs. Bazar was taken to a Texarkana hospital by Hempstead County Ambulance Service where she was treated and released.

Damage to the vehicle was extensive and was termed a complete loss.

Hope Loses Postal Mail Terminal to Texarkana

After Saturday, May 6, Hope Post Office will no longer be the mail terminal for this section of Arkansas. The terminal is being transferred to the Oaklawn Post Office at Texarkana, Texas, it was learned unofficially.

The move will affect Hope, DeQueen, Nashville, Prescott, Blevins, McCaskill, Lewisville, Rosston, McNab, Saratoga and many other points in this area which were served by the local terminal.

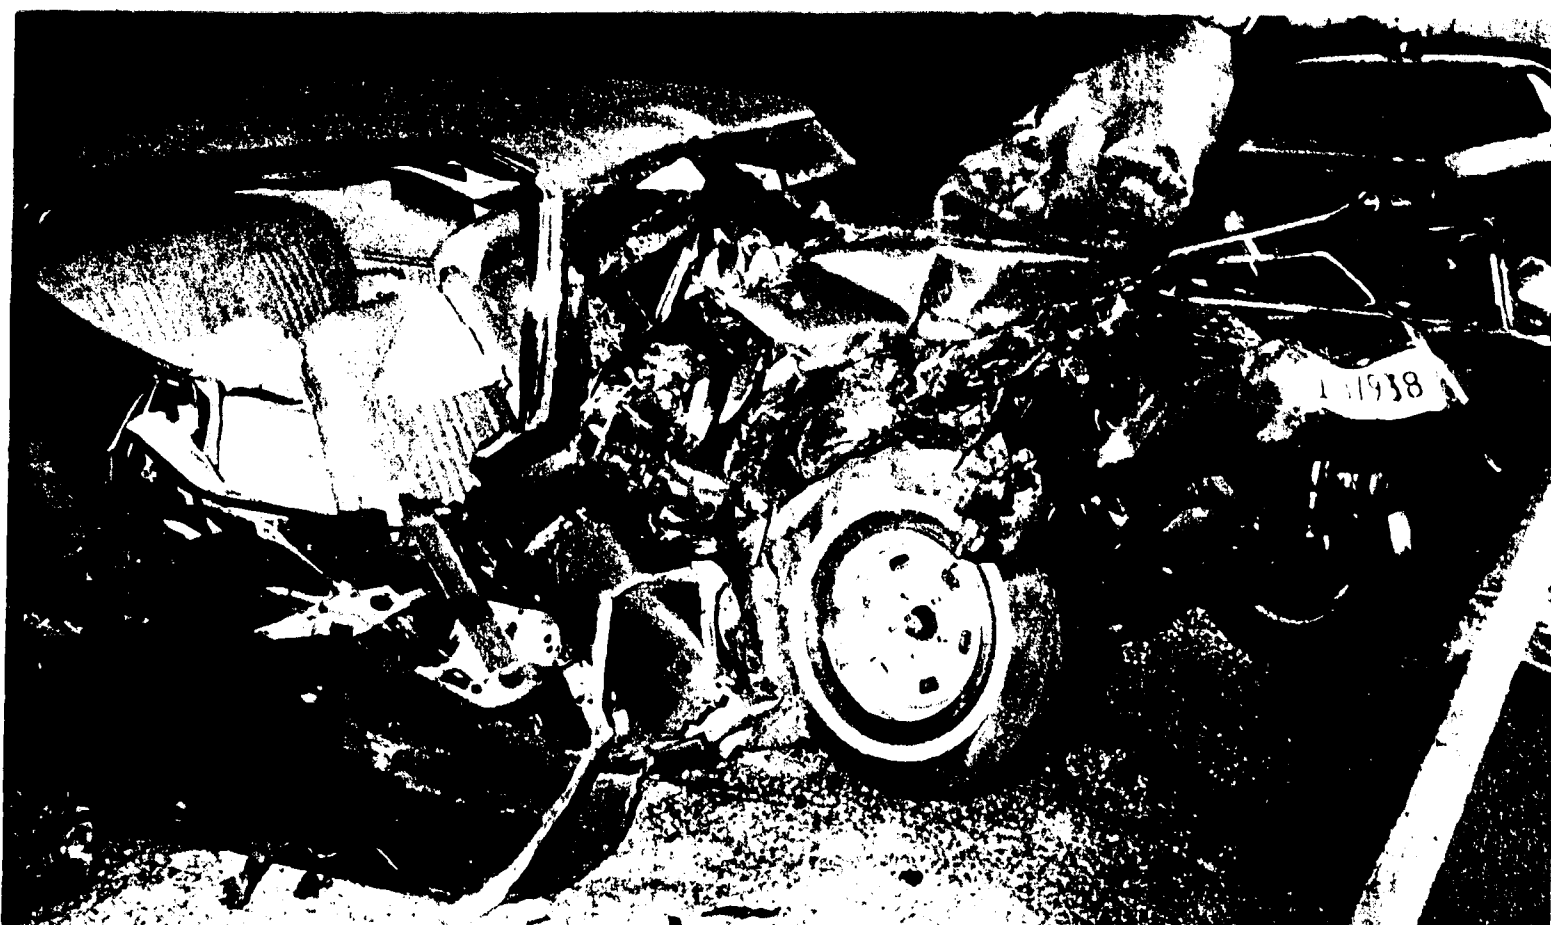

Now all the mail except local will be trucked to Texarkana for distribution. If a local letter should accidentally be placed in the out of town chute it will go to Texarkana and then returned to Hope for delivery.

The move will also affect at least seven local workers who will be transferred to Shreveport, La.

A change is also forthcoming in the method of local delivery. Four mail vehicles have been delivered to the local Post Office for use by city carriers. Reportedly, carriers will be assigned one and deliver the mail block by block, instead of the route walking method now used.

Predawn Wreck Injures Two

Mr. and Mrs. David Condrey of Memphis, Tenn. were seriously injured in an accident on Interstate 30 at the intersection of the Highway 4 overpass shortly before dawn today. The Condrey vehicle, traveling east at a high rate of speed, rammed into the rear of a Southern Cement truck driven by Chuck Ard of Ashdown. The driver of the truck was uninjured. The Condrey couple was taken to Hempstead Co. Memorial hospital. State trooper Branch made the investigation.

Meat Responsible

Wholesale Food Prices Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today the biggest drop in wholesale food prices in eight months for April, due largely to a sharp decline in meat prices.

In another report, the Labor Department said the nation's total employment and unemployment remained virtually unchanged last month, with the jobless rate holding steady at 5.9 per cent of the work force.

The report on wholesale prices said the average cost of meats, poultry and fish declined 2.9 per cent in April. This was the major factor in an over-all decline of seven-tenths of one per cent for all farm products and processed foods.

Wholesale food prices are generally reflected fairly soon at the supermarket.

The report said a broad range of prices of wholesale raw materials and manufactured products rose three-tenths of one per cent.

All wholesale prices of food and industrial commodities averaged out to a rise of one-tenth of one per cent, boosting the Wholesale Price Index to 117.5 of its 1967 base of 100. This meant it cost $117.50 on the average for wholesale goods worth $100 five years ago. The latest index was 3.7 per cent above a year ago.

The report on jobs said the total number of employed Americans actually rose some 400,000 to 80.6 million and unemployment dropped more than half a million to 4.7 million. But these developments are expected for April and the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured no change in both employment and unemployment on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The report also said average earnings of nearly 50 million rank-and-file workers—more than half the nation's work force—rose two cents per hour to $3.50 and increased $1.10 per week to $132.83.

The average weekly paycheck was $8.78 or 7.1 per cent above a year ago. After deduction for the 3.5 per cent rise in living costs over the same period the gain in purchasing power was a little over $4 per week.

The report on wholesale prices listed declines of four-tenths of one per cent for dairy products, seven-tenths for sugar and confectionary, two per cent for animal fats and oils and one-tenth of one per cent for vegetable oil end products.

Candidates for Degree

John Warren Greene of Hope, and Jerry M. Porterfield of Prescott are candidates for Bachelor of Arts degrees at Southern State College in Magnolia. Two area students at Southern State College, will serve in elected or appointed positions for the academic year 1972-73. They are, Linda B. Williams of Hope, and Dale Cheatham of McNab. Williams was elected as one of eight cheerleaders. Cheatham will serve as Resident Assistant of Graham Hall. Men's residence hall, and as secretary-treasurer of the Psychology Club. Both are juniors at SSC.

A large number of volunteer workers are needed to take that pint of Blood you give when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to Hope. Mrs. Bob Turner secures from 6 to 10 Registered Nurses for the 2 days. Mrs. Lonnie Crow lines up 20 women per day to cover all shifts. The Red River School supplies student nurses and typists. All are needed to keep the line moving and try for the maximum of 20 pints per hour. This visit 18 per hour will be needed if the county is to meet its quota. So that all those volunteers will not be wasting their time, won't you go give a pint of blood either Monday, May 8th or Tuesday, May 9th, 12 noon to 6:00 p.m. Oh yes, there is another reason: it may save somebody's life.

The Spring Hill Senior Class will have a car wash Saturday, May 6, at 1 p.m. at Walker's Refrigeration located by the old

To Receive Degree

Among the 216 candidates for graduation from Ouachita Baptist University in commencement exercises on May 6 are: Diane Collins, Prescott, Bachelor of Arts degree, office administration; Robert Rouse, Prescott, Bachelor of Arts, sociology; and Dennis Wood, Hope, Bachelor of Arts, speech.

Nellie Churchwell of Hope will receive a Bachelor of Science in Elementary Education, and Deborah Bledsoe, Hope, and John King, Hope, Bachelor of Music, choral music.

Fight Raging for Vital Highway 14

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting erupted today for control of vital Highway 14 in the central highlands.

Spokenmen said 75 North Vietnamese and one South Vietnamese were killed in the fighting.

By dusk, field reports said the fighting had tapered off to only light contact. Thousands of refugees who tried to leave Kontum were turned back because of the fighting.

The fighting at the Chu Pao mountain, which dominates Highway 14 seven miles south of Kontum, broke out less than 24 hours after spokesmen said the roadway had been cleared and one convoy had moved through from Pleiku.

South Vietnamese paratroopers swept down the highway Thursday from Kontum behind an armada of U.S. bombers using top secret weapons to root North Vietnamese troops from caves in the mountains overlooking the pass. South Vietnamese infantry reinforcements seized the high ground, with no resistance, but were attacked by North Vietnamese forces this afternoon.

The highway is the only overland supply route to Kontum, which is threatened by two North Vietnamese divisions. Should the highway remain cut and the North Vietnamese ring Kontum with anti-aircraft guns, it would be difficult to supply the defenders of the city. The provincial capital of Quang Tri on the northern front fell last Monday after it was cut off from both overland and air supply.

Kontum is 25 miles north of Pleiku, the capital of the central highlands and the military headquarters of the region.

Nine U.S. B52 bombers dropped more than 200 tons of explosives on both sides of Highway 547, a key North Vietnamese supply route from Laos toward Hue. The raids were 13 to 15 miles west and southwest of the old imperial capital and were part of a renewed campaign to forestall any attack on the city.

Fighting continued at a low level for the second consecutive day and it was believed the North Vietnamese were resting, regrouping and resupplying in preparation for renewed assaults.

Da Nang officials have set up special checkpoints throughout the city to round up soldiers who have deserted their units in Hue.

Another problem confronting Da Nang officials is that Viet Cong agents are infiltrating into the city with refugees who are already flooding South Vietnam's second largest city.

In Saigon, closed door meetings were under way between top South Vietnamese and U.S. leaders to map strategy in fighting the North Vietnamese invasion.

Showers Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were expected to begin occurring in Arkansas late today and tonight as southerly winds pump warm, moist air into the state from the Gulf.

The National Weather Service said a cold front also was approaching the state and the chance of rain would continue to increase as the front moves closer.

High pressure situated over the state Thursday made for a pleasant day with fair skies and warm temperatures.

Some light scattered showers broke out in the extreme northwestern portion of the state Thursday night. The only rainfall recorded, however, was a trace at Fayetteville and Harrison.

Overnight lows included 50 at Fayetteville, 54 at Harrison, 49 at Jonesboro, 57 at Pine Bluff, 61 at Texarkana, 51 at El Dorado, 53 at Memphis, 50 at Little Rock and 51 at Fort Smith.

Wins State Competition

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE DAVIS

Clyde Davis, local photographer, won two first place awards at the Arkansas Professional Photographers Association convention in Little Rock last week.

Davis' print, "Snowy Azalea" won first place in the Best Pictorial Direct Color division. Another entry, "Golden Memories" was awarded first place in the Best Candid Direct Color category.

Davis has received numerous photography awards in past competition. He won two first place awards of the five categories in this year's state competition.

Dr. Will K. Andress has been named director of the Centenary College Choir in Shreveport to replace Dr. A. C. "Cheezy" Voran, who resigned May 1 after 30 years as director. The new director also directs the choir at the First United Methodist Church of Shreveport. He is a brother of Jim Andress and Mrs. Charles Batson, both of Hope.

Mrs. Bill Wilson underwent surgery Wednesday at St. Vincent Infirmary in Little Rock. She is in Room 556.

The Patricia Ann Williams listed in Thursday's court docket publication is not Miss Patricia Ann Williams of 614 South Walnut Street.

The weekly meeting of the Hope Optimist Club will be Monday, May 8, at 6:30 a.m., at the Town and Country Restaurant. This will be a breakfast meeting. Everyone interested in the work of the club is invited to attend.

The Central Cemetery, located ten miles south of Hope on Highway 29, is in need of maintenance funds. All donations should be sent to E. H. Bahlow, Rt. 1, Patton, Ark.

FHA Inspector Pleads Innocent

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A construction inspector for Farmers Home Administration pleaded innocent in U. S. District Court here Thursday to an indictment charging him with conflict of interest.

Dates involved are from about Sept. 25, 1970 to about Dec. 16, 1971.

Entering the plea was Charles E. Martin of Colt (St. Francis County). One count of the indictment alleged that Martin was involved in the approval of a number of FHA housing loans in which he had a financial interest. He also was charged with never disclosing such financial interest to the government.

A second count alleges that on Feb. 26, 1971, Martin falsely told the state director of the FHA that he was not connected with the "contracting and well-drilling business but said that business had been transferred to his son."

Instructor Strips

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Another University of Oklahoma graduate English instructor, claiming "every one should have the right to take their clothes off," did just that Thursday.

Authorities said Wendy Berlowitz, a graduate student in English, disrobed before her freshman class. She was dismissed.

Another English instructor, Romney Phelps, undressed in front of his class last week. He was also fired and later admitted to Central State Hospital for observation.

One member of the class, a coed, said Mrs. Berlowitz announced she wanted to disrobe and asked if anyone would be offended. The coed said no one objected so the instructor undressed and read a short story aloud. She was nude about 30 minutes, dressed again and dismissed the class.

The coed said Mrs. Berlowitz

Television and Radio

By CYATHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — As May bursts forth with flowers, television erupts with awards, climaxed a week from Sunday with the industry's own big show, the Emmys.

Here follow the pick of the season's best by one viewer, the writer who has watched television for hundreds of hours and has tried to decide, not by Nielsen ratings or personal choice, but on how well a program, a series or an individual has achieved a goal or an effect.

On the entertainment side, it seems that NBC's "Columbo," a part of "Mystery Movie," was the most satisfactory both in terms of scripts and adroit use of a format. "The Flip Wilson Show," also on NBC, was the most ingenious variety hour, a blend of gentle comedy and satire, all done in good taste. CBS's "The Homecoming," was the most effective drama special.

CBS's "Mary Tyler Moore Show," with excellent scripts and a dandy cast, continued to be a thoroughly satisfying comedy half hour. Miss Moore, as catalyst, has been superb. "The Dick Cavett Show," now on probation at ABC, is head and shoulders above the rest of the talk shows.

"The Six Wives of Henry VIII" and "Elizabeth R," both British imports, deserve some recognition for CBS and the Public Broadcasting System which imported them. Glenda Jackson should be honored for her superb performance as Elizabeth.

CBS's disturbing film drama, "The Glass House," was an outstanding program. George C. Scott's performance in "Jane Eyre" was particularly memorable. Harvey Korman continued to be Carol Burnett's sturdy, all purpose support. Bob Machie, who designs stunning clothes for both Carol Burnett and Cher Bono of "The Sonny and Cher Show" deserves something for his quiet contribution.

In the daytime schedules, NBC's "Dinah's Place," and Miss Shore herself hit a high note with a pleasant, informative women's show. "Hollywood Squares," an NBC game show, is consistently funny and amusingly informative.

Arrest Warrant Issued

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An arrest warrant was issued Thursday for John L. Ransom, charging him with false pretense in connection with a life insurance policy totaling about $4,000.

The proceeds of the policy allegedly was paid by Universal Life Insurance Co. to Ransom's wife after Ransom reportedly died in a fire that destroyed his home at Higgins Switch March 3.

Authorities said the body identified at first as Ransom's actually was that of Percy Lee Brown, 57, of College Station.

DIANE DUPREE

Diane Dupree of Hope will be candidate for the bachelor of science degree in education from Southern State College May 12. Dr. L.A. Logan, vice president of academic affairs, has announced.

Mrs. Dupree, wife of Ronald Dupree of Little Rock, is a 1968 graduate of Hope High School. She is a member of the Womens Recreation Association, the Association of Women Students and the Tri-C Business Club.

Dr. Logan will present some 200 candidates for degrees at commencement in Wilkins Stadium to SSC president, Dr. Imron E. Bruce who will award diplomas to graduates from Arkansas, California, Louisiana, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Texas.

Plans Trip to Hanoi

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A seven-man delegation from the Vietnam Veterans Against the War reportedly is planning a trip to Hanoi within the next two weeks to bring back "a very precious commodity."

The Daily Oklahoman reported in this morning's edition that it had learned of the trip Wednesday night from Bill Lemmer, a regional coordinator of the anti-war group.

Lemmer, from Fayetteville, Ark., was in Tulsa for an anti-war rally.

The Oklahoman said Lemmer stated privately his group would leave from New York but declined to elaborate.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Rx for Five Friendly Divorces
DEAR HELEN:

This list of "Don'ts" for a happy marriage has been most helpful to me over the years. I brought it with me to my five marriages and, while they all ended in divorce, I must say I've remained friendly with my five ex-wives.

May I share with your readers my "NEVER, NEVER LIST"? For a happy marriage, DON'T—

Speak loudly to one another, unless the house is on fire.

Taunt over a mistake.

Talk AT one another, through someone else: that is—ricochet criticism by bouncing it off a third party.

Both get angry at the same time.

Find fault unless you can suggest a remedy, and the fault is worth bothering about.

Make a mean remark at the expense of the other.

Part for a day without loving words.

Let the sun go down on anger, or grievance.

Meet without a loving welcome.

Forget to say "I'm sorry."

Stop remembering the hours of early love.

Sigh over what might have been, but make the best of what is.—MARK

DEAR MARK:

Sounds great, but I can't give your list an A+ confidence rating if it brought you only five friendly divorces.

Perhaps it failed because it omits such necessary ingredients as: fidelity, dependability, humor, fireworks, mutual interests—and the wisdom to choose a mate who considers all these rules important too.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm a woman of 30, and my problem is men. Or maybe it's a "hang-up."

Though I've had some close calls, I am holding out for the ring and the wedding ceremony. But my men friends don't stay around that long.

I don't want to lose the guy I am going with now, yet I have my standards and conscience to live with.

Should I take the pill and join in today's loose morality, or stay what I thought every man wanted—a virgin?—MANLESS
DEAR M.:

There's a point in a woman's life when the asset of virginity becomes the liability of spinsterhood. Don't wave your standards like a banner, but if your conscience demands, keep them—and wait for a marrying-type man. They're still around, somewhere.

You'd probably be miserable in an affair.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My wife talks too much. She blabs all of our business, even our bedroom conversation, all over the neighborhood.

She will tell anything to get a laugh. At social events, people who are strangers to me know the details of our marriage. She thinks of herself as the Phyllis Diller of Maple Drive, and when I remonstrate, she says I haven't any sense of humor—and this too becomes a funny story. She has 'em rolling in the aisles!

How do I get it across to her that man's home is his castle, not the neighborhood comic soap opera?—SAM

DEAR SAM:

Why not fight blab with blab? For every "funny" she tells be ready with two fascinating items about "my weird little wife." If this doesn't cure her—well maybe you can take your act to Vegas.—H.

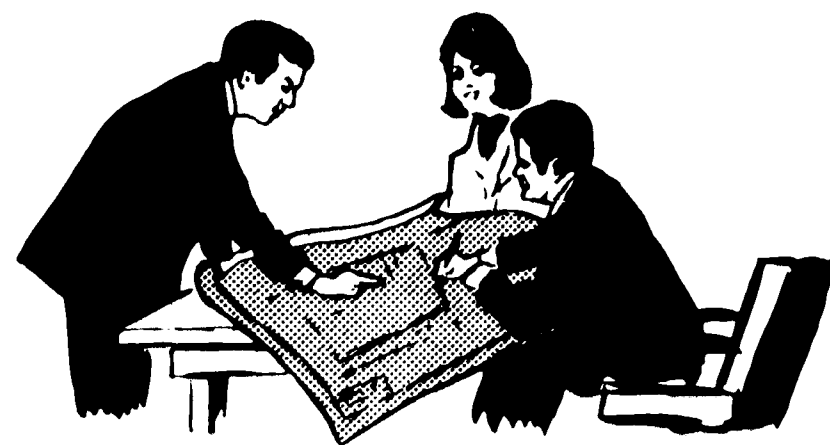

"King Kong" Actor Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bruce Cabot, who played the hero in "King Kong" but never reached stardom in 40 years of filmmaking, has died of cancer.

Cabot, 68, rose to fame in the 1933 science fiction classic and was active in films until late last year when he entered the Motion Picture Country Home and Hospital in nearby Woodland Hills for treatment of lung and throat cancer. He died Wednesday.

His more than 300 film roles included a feature part in "Last of the Mohicans" and a recent small part in the James Bond adventure "Diamonds Are Forever."

Little Doubt Strike Did Damage Baseball

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball has been damaged by the first general strike in its history—a fact reflected by a decrease in attendance and a corresponding lowering of the esteem in which the players are held by the fans who foot the bill.

But any complete analysis of the effect of the strike on the sport awaits two dates:

The first is the beginning of June, when baseball weather is guaranteed and post-season playoffs in other sports have ended, enabling all involved to get a closer look at the reasons behind a dropoff in major league attendance of more than 300,000.

The second date probably will come after the World Series, but could come earlier, depending on when new negotiations begin on both the sticky pension issue that provoked the strike and the entire general agreement.

The decline in attendance and player esteem plus the question of what happens in the future were the major points coming out of Associated Press study of the effects of the strike on the game, its players and its leaders.

That study showed:

—Major league attendance is down 316,722 compared with the same number of playing dates last year; it is down more than that in the American League alone, with the National showing a slight increase.

—The attendance fallout possibly could affect the future of three clubs: St. Louis, San Diego and Texas.

—The June target date will more clearly show whether the dropoff in attendance will be a continuing factor, which naturally would cause considerable concern.

The beginning of negotiations on new contracts will be the determining factor in whether the re-negotiations of the past can be forgotten and turned to future advantage.

—There has been a call, by Minnesota owner Cal Griffith, for an earlier beginning of contract negotiations, possibly as early as June, so that the brink isn't reached as quickly as it was this year.

—There has been a call, by Oakland owner Charles O. Finley, to offset any damage to the game by the strike with the institution of changes to make the sport "more interesting and entertaining."

The problem of the drop-off in attendance is major, but an optimistic outlook comes from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who uses measuring stick that shows average per date attendance is up 12 per cent.

"If you take the point where the season started this year and compare it with a comparable period last season (two weeks into the season), attendance is up 12 per cent. And that's despite some above average weather problems."

No one, however, contends there hasn't been a negative reaction by the fans.

"The baseball public found the strike distasteful and unfortunate," said Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees. "What the long range effect would be, I don't know. But, if by the middle of June, attendance hasn't picked up, I'd be concerned."

That the fans have found the players off base—whether rightly or wrongly—seems evident from several incidents, such as the booing of popular Brooks Robinson at Baltimore and the Reds in Cincinnati.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players' Association, sees the fan response to the players as a natural reaction of the owners' propaganda during the strike.

"A number of owners didn't realize 'til too late what they were doing," Miller said.

State College Leads Way

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — State College of Arkansas has the early lead in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference track and field championships that got under way here Thursday night.

Finals in three events were held Thursday night and the Bears rolled up 15 points. Arkansas Tech was second with 9½ points, followed by the University of Arkansas at Monticello with 9, Henderson 7, Ozarks 3½, Southern State 3 and Hendrix 1.

Ouachita and Southern State are the favorites. Although both are behind after three events, this was about the position most expected them to be in.

Finals in all other events were set for tonight.

In the three events completed Thursday, Danny Hazlewood of SCA won the discus with a toss of 157 feet, 6 inches, Chuck Loetcher of SCA won the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 6½ inches, and Tony Cotton of Tech won the long jump with an effort of 23 feet, 3½ inches.

Orr Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's magnificent Bobby Orr won the National Hockey League's Hart Trophy as Most Valuable Player for the third consecutive year today—the first player in NHL history to perform that particular hat trick.

Orr also took his fifth consecutive Norris Trophy as league's best defenseman—another first—and ran his total trophy haul for his six seasons in the NHL to 11.

The two trophies for Orr, along with the Lady Byng for sportsmanship and effective play which went to New York's Jean Ratelle, and the Calder as Rookie of the Year, which went to Montreal's Ken Dryden, were announced at an NHL luncheon today.

Orr, who was runnerup to teammate Phil Esposito in the scoring race for the second consecutive year, polled 126 points in the MVP balloting, beating Montreal's Dryden by 37 points. Esposito, who captured the Art Ross Trophy as scoring champion for the third time in his career, was third in the Hart balloting with 57 points.

The closest vote was the rookie balloting won by goalie Dryden with 152 points, just 20 more than Buffalo's Rick Martin, who scored a rookie record of 44 goals.

The Vezina Trophy, a defensive award, was shared by Chicago goalies Tony Esposito and Gary Smith.

Frank Beard, one of the few big name players to enter this event which replaced the old Houston-Champions Invitational on the pro schedule, withdrew after six holes because of a hand injury.

Bruce Crampton, an Australian veteran who has been in position to win a half dozen times this year and ranked as the pre-tourney favorite here, was far back in the pack at 74.

The hard-hitting Thorpe, a 6-foot-3, 190-pound son of a green-skeeper at Roxboro, N.C., is making his second try on the pro tour. He played briefly in 1968, before running out of money. He returned to the tour this year under the sponsorship of Walter Burkeme, an old PGA national champion, after spending a couple of seasons playing on the Negro tour and and Bob Menne at 69.

The 25-year-old said he played "a couple of weeks with a Pirate farm team in Asheville, N.C., in 1967."

"But they suspended me for three days one time for slipping off to the golf course, so I said, 'what the hell,' quit baseball and turned pro in golf."

He started in the game as a caddy on his father's course.

"Where management runs its players down in a normal business, it has no important effect on sales of its product. But when it runs down its product in baseball—where the players are the product—I'd be surprised if there wasn't some impact."

Whether it's a reaction to the players, poor weather or whatever, the fact is St. Louis, San Diego and Texas have been hard hit.

Cardinal president August Busch has hinted at a possible sale of the club. The Padres have not been averaging the 10,000 they say they need to remain in San Diego. The Rangers' attendance in their new Texas home compares unfavorably with what they were drawing at this stage of the 1971 season in Washington.

Finley is hopeful of a return to normal—but even as the Oakland owner hopes for that he pushes for range.

"I think the time is ripe now to make plans for 1973 for steps to improve the game," Finley said.

Finley's methods for winning fans back include inter-league play between the American and National leagues and the use of a pinch hitter for the pitcher without his being taken out of the game.

What's on everyone's mind is whether negotiations will be conducted differently than in the past, the past hopefully con-

"My Track" Says Baker

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Buddy Baker and his father, Buck, sat on top of a truck cab Thursday and watched a succession of race cars streaking around the Alabama International Speedway.

"This is my track," the 6-foot-4 Buddy Baker said. "The high banks are my bread and butter, and I'm at home when I can slingshot around here at 185-190 miles per hour. There is nothing like it."

"But the gods have been unkind to me at Talladega, and I just hope that my bad luck has ended. If it has, the other drivers are going to have to kick me around to beat me."

Buddy and his father, a 53-year-old campaigner who was racing when many of the current drivers were infants, already had qualified for positions in Sunday's Winston 500, a $151,000 race for Grand National stock cars that could be the fastest ever run.

Buddy qualified his SST-sponsored Dodge at 186.376 miles per hour Wednesday, earning the fifth spot in the lineup behind pole winner Bobby Isaac and the other front row starter, David Pearson.

Buck Baker made it into the field Thursday, driving a Chevrolet at 174.598 m.p.h.

Twenty-five drivers have made the Winston 500 lineup, with 15 more to be added in time trials this afternoon. The final ten will be selected Saturday.

Thursday's fastest speed was recorded by Jimmy Carwood, an Eastern Airlines pilot from Atlanta who races part time. He won the 11th starting berth at a speed of 183.634 m.p.h. in a Dodge.

Riva Ridge, who won the Hibiscus and Blue Grass in three starts this year, worked five furlongs in 1:01 2-5 Thursday to the satisfaction of trainer Lucien Laurin.

Bobby Kojenka was named on both Majestic Neble, who drew the 12th post, and Napoie, who got No. 13.

tributing to a sounder future. "I would hope both the players' association and the clubs approach negotiations with greater care and delicacy," said Burke. "Both sides were guilty of being rather cavalier. I would hope we are all a little more determined to use our heads and not get trapped again, including Miller."

"No one wants to see a strike the first time, let alone a second," said Miller. "But if the owners assume they can go back to the way it was and walk all over our players and have no reaction, they're wrong."

Riva Ridge Is Derby Favorite

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Riva Ridge, a winner of many important stakes and over $500,000, will oppose 15 other 3-year-olds in the Kentucky Derby Saturday including Dr. Neale, a sore-heeled veteran of four races and earner of $6,347. Riva Ridge, Meadow Stud's 1971 2-year-old champion is the early favorite while Dr. Neale, owned and trained by Chuck Nicholas, was put in the mutual field after being entered Thursday for the 98th running of the Derby at Churchill Downs.

Riva Ridge's toughest competition is expected from Mrs. Maribel Blum's Hold Your Peace, the Flamingo and Stepping Stone winner; J. R. Straus' No Le Haze, first in the Arkansas and Louisiana Derbies, and Paul Mellon's Head of the River.

Others entered were Joseph and William Stavola's Middletown Stable's Freetex, Forrest H. Lindsay's Sensitive Music; Corbin J. Robertson's Introductory, Robert Mitchell's Our Trade Winds, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reinhold's Big Brown Bear, Preston Madden's Kentucky Bruno Ferrari's Palazzo, Dr. Hassi Shina's Hassi's Image, Robert Lehmann's entry of Majestic Needle and Napoie and Max Gluck's Big Spruce.

If there are no scratches, the Derby will gross $182,800.

Each starter will carry 126 pounds over the 1¼ miles on a track expected to be fast. The Weather Bureau now predicts no rain in Louisville on Derby Day. Missing from the Derby will be Mellon's Key to the Mint, winner of the Derby Trial Tuesday in his first start since being injured March 15.

Riva Ridge will start from the No. 9 post under Ron Turcott; Hold Your Peace with go from the third slot under Carlos Marquez; Phil Rubbico will take No. 14 Head from the outside post; Head of the River will leave the No. 14 under Mike Tole, and Freetex under on the rail under Chuck Baltazar.

Bobby Kojenka was named on both Majestic Neble, who drew the 12th post, and Napoie, who got No. 13.

"Before that I started hitting balls. I didn't have any clubs so I went off in the woods and whittled me out a stick shaped like a club. I could hit it 230, 240 yards with that."

"When I finally got me some clubs, I felt like a gorilla. I didn't know how far I could hit it."

West Finds Basket

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West glided through a relaxed practice session, claimed that he had once more discovered the whereabouts of the basket and inmodestly announced he was ready for the fourth game of the National Basketball Association playoffs tonight.

"My shooting percentage went up in practice," the soft-spoken Los Angeles Laker guard said Thursday on the eve of the big game with the New York Knicks at Madison Square Garden.

It's just another piece of bad news for New York, already in hot water because of forward Dave DeBusschere's injury. The Lakers lead the Knicks 2-1 in this best-of-seven-game championship series.

The Lakers won the third game of the championship series by beating the Knicks 107-96 Wednesday night as West struggled through a 10-for-28 shooting night, an illogically low percentage for the outstanding guard.

Usually deadly from 15 feet with a soft jumper West has been missing dramatically all series long—hitting only 19 of 64 floor attempts.

"I didn't feel like going to practice, players never do," said West. "But once I got there, I had fun."

Tolan's Drive Sparks Win for Reds Over Troubled Cardinals

By PAUL LEBAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Thank God for Bobby Tolan," Sparky Anderson said, but the Cincinnati Reds also owed a debt of gratitude to Tony Perez' glove. Tolan's line-drive triple cemented a 9-5 Reds' triumph Thursday over the troubled St. Louis Cardinals after Perez, a former All-Star third baseman playing first base, kept them in the game.

St. Louis had battled to a 4-4 tie in the seventh when Perez made his move.

A shot off Matty Alou's bat seemingly headed for the right field corner was instead speared by the 6-foot-2 Perez and Alou was held to a single.

The bases were jammed as a consequence, but sinker ball specialist Clay Carroll came on to fan Joe Torre on four pitches and turn the tide.

After the game, Anderson exuded. "I was just telling the

Mays Always Ready to Help Youngsters

By ERIC PREWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"I'll do anything I can to help our younger players," said Willie Mays.

And the day is nearing when Mays, whose 41st birthday is Saturday, will make the ultimate decision—to step aside and let a younger man become the regular center fielder for the San Francisco Giants.

"When we have someone who is capable of going out there and doing my job better than I can, I'll be the first one to admit it," Mays added in an interview before a New York Mets-Giants game this week.

On Wednesday, Mays returned to the starting lineup after four days off. The Giants lost 8-5, but Mays looked as fit as any center fielder in baseball, singling twice and making an over-the-shoulder running catch that earned him a standing ovation.

Mays, in his 22nd big league season, is off to a slow start, along with many of his teammates. He takes a .181 batting average into tonight's game in Philadelphia.

Mays hit only 18 home runs in 1971, when he batted .271. He has none so far this year.

"I've adjusted to the fact that I'm not going to hit many home runs now," he said. "But there are still plenty of things I can do."

Mays attributes his early season troubles partly to the 13-day strike by major league players.

As the Giants' player representative, Mays had to go to New York for the meetings which ended the strike. He didn't touch a ball for more than a week.

Mays flew from New York to Houston, where the Giants opened the season April 15. He had a single and his 1,857th career RBI in the opener, but he didn't have two hits in a game this season until Wednesday against the Mets.

Mays doesn't rule out the possibility of retirement after this season. He's on the final year of a two-year contract worth about $320,000.

"All I know is that it will be one of the toughest decisions of my life to go into that locker and put that uniform in moth-

Junior Olympic Meet

The Parks & Recreation Department sponsored a Junior Olympic Track and Field meet held recently at the Hope High track. About 250 boys and girls from the third through sixth grades competed in thirteen events. 120 medals, donated by the Quaker Oats Co., were awarded. Paul Henley, Recreation director for the city, said that the success of this meet warrants making it an annual event.

Rangers Are Back

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Rangers were back in the thick of the fight, and very much alive, today after proving the mighty Boston Bruins don't own a patent on power play scoring in the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup championship showdown.

"It's a brand new ball game now," New York's Rod Gilbert said Thursday night after the Rangers scored on three consecutive power plays in the first period and went on to a 5-2 victory to pull to 2-1 in the best-of-seven series.

"I think we beat them good," said Gilbert, who scored two goals as the Rangers snapped Boston's nine-game playoff winning streak. "There's no doubt about it."

The Bruins, who scored 74 power play goals during the regular season, humbled New York's extra man attack with a pair of short-handed tallies in a 6-5 first game victory. Then Boston won the second game 2-1 on a pair of power play tallies.

Rival coaches Emile Francis of New York and Tom Johnson of the Bruins agreed the power play was the key.

"This was definitely a must game for us and we responded with a great team effort," Francis said. "The turning point was what we did on the power play in the first period. That got us off and running."

"We got a real bad start," Johnson said. "Those three power play goals put us in a hole right away. They scored on their opportunities. We had chances on our power play, but couldn't put the puck in the net. I think we had as many good chances as they did in the first period, but we couldn't click on them."

Asked if the loss, only the second to New York in nine games since the start of the 1971-72 NHL season, changed the complexion of the series, Johnson replied: "Definitely. Now they've won one. We're going to have to come back here Sunday and do better."

Both the Bruins and the Rangers were feeling the effects after three rugged meetings.

The next game is Sunday in New York.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Safe travel on the high seas throughout the globe depends to a considerable extent on the navigational services rendered to U.S. ships by the U.S. Naval Oceanographic Office known by mariners as NAVOCEANO. The World Almanac notes that specialists at NAVOCEANO produce and distribute under Congressional authorization the nautical charts that U.S. mariners rely on for oceanic travel.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Get Yourself A Family Doctor

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 67 years old and my husband and I have moved to Florida. The least bit of exertion makes it difficult for me to breathe, but when I am relaxing I breathe normally. Our family doctor in Pennsylvania told me I had chronic bronchitis. Is it serious? We do not have a family doctor here and I need some advice. Is there anything I can do to get some relief? I have been smoking cigarettes for the last 50 years and am wondering if I could have any kind of reaction if I stopped smoking.

Dear Reader—Chronic bronchitis means long standing inflammation of the bronchi or air passages in the lungs. How serious it is depends on how severe the inflammation is, and how much lung damage has occurred. If you get short of breath with a very little amount of exertion, I would guess that you have quite a bit of lung disease.

Individuals who have smoked a lot for a long period of time have a much greater probability of having severe lung disease of the type that you apparently have. Perhaps the lung damage that cigarettes can cause in so many people like yourself is even more important than cancer of the lungs.

I think you certainly should quit smoking. It might do a lot to help your breathing problem and it would be the first thing that a doctor should ask you to do if you have any significant lung damage or bronchitis. Some people do have trouble stopping smoking and will have unpleasant symptoms which are withdrawal symptoms from nicotine. I know a lot of people move to Florida away from their family, friends and their doctor, and I know that many people like yourself neglect getting a new family doctor. It is hard to do sometimes, particularly in Florida, because of the large number of people who need family doctors.

Dear D. Lamb—Recently I have read that an aid to controlling constipation consisted of a glass of water containing two teaspoons full of apple cider vinegar before meals. Also, this is supposed to act as a cleaner all through the alimentary canal. In your opinion, is this beneficial or is it perhaps harmful?

Dear Reader—I doubt that it will be harmful for most healthy people. To the extent that many people's problems with constipation are aided by increasing intake of liquids, it can even be helpful. One of the most useful things people can do for constipation problems is to establish a regular morning habit after breakfast and to drink plenty of fluids with their breakfast meal. The apple cider vinegar may have somewhat the same effect as fresh fruits and prunes.

Southern Baptists Admit Women to Ministry

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ordinarily, for a denomination to admit women to the ordained ministry, it requires detailed studies, lengthy legislative deliberation, debate and, finally, formal changes in church regulations. Not so for the Southern Baptists. They just do it.

"It's up to them," says Dr. Porter Routh of Nashville, Tenn., the denomination's general secretary. "Under our concept of congregational autonomy, each local church has the right to decide whom it ordains."

And lately, in a departure from past practice, some congregations in the big, loosely knit but doctrinally conservative communion have started ordaining women, something that had never happened before.

"It's a new thing," observes Dr. Routh, who has served for 20 years as the chief executive of the 11.7-million-member body, the nation's largest Protestant denomination.

Through drawn-out processes, most other major Protestant denominations have authorized ordaining of women. Some still are wrestling with the issue.

But for Southern Baptists, who stress adherence to New Testament belief and practice, the entry of women into the ministry came spontaneously through innovation on the home front.

A few, scattered congregations, acting under the denomination's system of freedom of the local church, simply took a look at the situation, and changed it, ordaining women to the ranks of the clergy.

"Although we've never had women ministers before, we have nothing on the books either to encourage it or discourage it," Dr. Routh said in an interview.

So far, three cases are known in which Southern Baptist congregations have ordained women, the latest in March by the Bainbridge Street church in Richmond, Va.

It ordained Majorie Lee Bailey, who for six years has served as chaplain at the Virginia State Industrial Farm for Women.

Previously, in October, 1971, the Kathwood Baptist church of Columbia, S.C., ordained Shirley Carter, who is now religious and family counselor at the South Carolina prison for women in Columbia.

According to records, the first such Southern Baptist ordination was in 1964, when the Watts Street Baptist church in Durham, N.C., ordained Addie Davis, who was called as pastor of First Baptist church of Readsboro, Vt.

The Vermont congregation is in the American Baptist Convention, the northern Baptist wing, which for a century has had ordained women.

As to why it now is happening in the theologically more conservative Southern Baptist Convention, Dr. Routh said that both the modern drive for women's rights and the emphasis on more diversified types of ministry have combined to bring women into the ordained role.

It is evident, when we witness the increased destruction of timber lands, national cover crops and wide-spread erosion, America needs a national Save-The-Soil-Week. It is urgent that we treat Mother Earth with greater respect and appreciation. We must give back to her as much as we take away. There's no better time than during National Save-The-Soil-Week, to come to a full realization that "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." Delegates at School Press Convention

—Hope High School photos

Steve Routon accepts his certificate of award for editorial and was named Editor-of-Year in Division two.

Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, publications adviser, accompanied the group. This was her 16th consecutive AHSPA convention.

At the opening session, Mary Jane Reyenga, Marynell Branch, Tom Jackson, Steve Campbell, and Mike Waters examine brochure on Senator McClellan as the 500 delegates await his arrival.

Local School Newspaper Rated Superior

Steve Routon was named Editor of the Year and the Hope Hi-Lights rated superior in general excellence for Division 2 as announced at the annual Arkansas High School Press Association convention in Hot Springs last week.

At the opening session Senator John L. McClellan gave a press conference with all the news media in attendance. At the Friday night banquet Congressman David Pryor was guest speaker.

Professional journalists led in the interest sessions. They include Larry Elledge, editor Hot Springs Sentinel Record; Jim Massey, assistant advertising director of Arkansas Democrat; Harry Woods, editor of Texarkana Gazette; Fred A. Wulfekuhler, editor and publisher of Paragould Daily Press; George Fisher of Fisher Art Service; Sam G. Harris, director of public affairs and Orville Henry sports editor of the Arkansas Gazette; Bob Starr of the Associated Press; George Smith editor of Baxter Bulletin. Also at the Quill and Scroll Journalism Honor Society breakfast the guest speaker was Lester Benz, executive secretary of the society.

Hope's entries in the annual AHSPA contest received the following awards: Jim Arrington, excellent, feature story; Steve Routon, excellent, editorial; Kim Kawakami, superior, interview story, and excellent, column and original art; Betty Rodden, excellent, sports news story; Jack Turner, superior, sports column; Jim Browning, excellent, news photograph; Bill Moore, superior, feature photograph; Vicki Miller and Carol Haltom, superior, advertisement; Hope Hi-Lights excellent, service to school and community.

Mary Jane Reyenga, co-editor of 1972 BOBCAT, was a panelist on yearbook editors seminar; and Steve Campbell, editor-in-chief of the 1973 Hope Hi-Lights, was a features panelist.

Other Hope High School delegates included Steve Routon, editor-in-chief of the Hope Hi-Lights; Jack Turner, sports editor; Arlene Treat and Mary Young, 1973 BOBCAT co-editors; and Marynell Branch, Tom Jackson, Kim Geist, Eunice Sumner, and Mike Waters of the 1973 Hi-Lights staff.

"The Hope Hi-Lights is printed by the Hope Star Publishing Company which deserves part of the credit for our superior rating in general excellence. Not only are we judged on writing and page layout but also on the quality of printing. I feel that they are making a contribution to our educational program by providing us with this printing service. More interest has been shown in newspaper publication since we began to prepare our own material for offset reproduction, and I personally appreciate their patience with our students efforts," stated Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, publications adviser.

Mrs. Cindy Reese Payne, former associate editor of the Hope Hi-Lights is first-year journalism adviser at Oak Grove High School, Pulaski County Special School District. Her students were successful candidates for the office of AHSPA secretary.

They received the following award in Division 4 - superior; report of speech, column, sports column, advertisement, editorial; excellent: interview story, original art, service to school, general excellence; honorable mention: feature story and sports news story.

Miss Universe Pageant Saturday

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — There will be a Miss University of Arkansas Pageant this Saturday night, but it is not the most popular event on campus—not by a long shot.

Perhaps it is a sign of the times, but for the past several years, students and members of the faculty said that interest has been dwindling.

Jo Simon, assistant director of the Arkansas Student Union, said that perhaps the movement toward equality has left its mark on the most traditional of all schools in Arkansas.

"From what I have seen in the past two years, attendance at the pageant has been declining," he said. "From what I saw last year, the audience was mostly girls from their living group supporting their own girl."

Simon speculated that the women's equality movement may have found its way to the ivy-covered campus in the Ozark foothills.

Women are more interested in their minds and equality to men," Simon said. "The women's lib movement would probably make it

"A lot of girls just don't like to expose themselves, he said adding, "but as a man, I enjoyed watching it."

The flap over the pageant began last month when the student union board decided not to sponsor the pageant, partly due to apathy and partly due to the fact that the pageant has been a money losing proposition for the past five years. The deficit was $1,000 last year.

Randy McNair, president of the Student Union Governing Board, said that his group put an advertisement in the school newspaper asking for volunteers to help with the pageant and got no response.

"We found very little student interest," McNair said. In fact, he said no one complained to him about canceling the pageant, with the exception of the reigning Miss University of Arkansas.

Then two fraternities picked up the fallen banner. The two groups—Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu—in addition to Northwest Arkansas Mall will put on the show.

Jack Walsh, president of Sigma Chi, said the feeling in his house was that the University of Arkansas should have a

Fellowship Group To Hear A.M.E. Presiding Elder

The Hope-Hempstead Church Coalition Organization, a pastoral and congregational group involving some eight ministers and congregations, will hear the Rev. W.C. Montague of Little Rock Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Mt. Zion C.M.E. Church where the Rev. J.E. Ingraham is pastor.

Dr. Montague is the Presiding Elder of the Prescott District in the A.M.E. Church, the 12th Episcopal District's Annual Conference Accountant and one of the state's greatest Theologians.

Dr. W.G. Wynn, pastor of Bethel A.M.E. Church who was originally programmed to preach the sermon Sunday night at Mt. Zion, has accepted an invitation to preach the Baccalaureate Sermon for the McNeil Public School District at that time.

Rev. W.M. Martin will preside and Rev. W.T. Keys, Presiding Elder of the Washington District in the C.M.E. Church, will present the speaker.

The public is invited, said the pastor, Rev. J.E. Ingraham.

The Oaklawn 4-H Club will hold a called meeting at the City Park Youth Center Sunday, May 7, at 5:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

WILL RUTHERFORD

Hope Community Honors Will Vernon Rutherford

The total community of Hope and Hope School District 1-A spared no pains in voicing its approval upon the twenty-three consecutive years of professional academic, social, religious, and cultural services rendered to this community, and approximately forty years contributed to the state by Will Vernon Rutherford, long time principal of Yerger High School and Yerger Junior High School respectively.

The occasion was a banquet event in honor of Mr. Rutherford held in the Town & Country Restaurant banquet room on Friday evening, April 28, in which more than one hundred persons attended.

Community, regional, and state levels of Mr. Rutherford's colorful school administrative career were dignified with verbal salutes of tributes.

The black community presented the honoree with a beautiful plaque and the school board presented Mr. Rutherford with a fancy brief case. James H. Jones, Superintendent of Hope Public Schools made the presentations. Floyd Young, Guidance Counselor of Hope High School, presented the Rutherford with a steam-away on behalf of the teachers and community.

The special ceremonial arrangement follows:

Solo—"The Rosary", Mrs. Doris Donaldson; Corsage salutation, Mrs. L.O. Crofton; Local Level, Mrs. Ethel Bizzell; Parents, Mrs. Esther Hicks; Principal, Luther Black, Supervisor of Adult Education, State Department Little Rock; State, T.E. Patterson, Supervisor, Instructions, State Department, Little Rock; Solo, "I've Done My Work", Mrs. Kathleen Jordan.

The committee was chaired by Mrs. Edna Conway, and the program's M.C. was the Rev. W.G. Wynn. Other committee members included: Mrs. Estell Spearman, Mrs. Esther Hicks, Mrs. Ruth Love, Vander Lloyd; those arranging and printing the programs were Mrs. Esther Hicks and Mrs. A.B. Yerger. The souvenirs were made by Mrs. L.O. Crofton; Floor hostesses were Mrs. R.L. Davis, Mrs. Martha Thompson, Mrs. Joyce Gibson and Mrs. Alice Stroughter.

Obituary

Mrs. Nancy Austin, a native of Plain Dealing, Louisiana, a longtime resident of Hope, passed away in a Texarkana hospital May 4, 1972.

She is survived by: seven children, Robert Austin of Los Angeles, Miss Margaret Austin and Will Austin of New York City, Burnell Austin of Xenia, Ohio, John B. Austin and Flemon Austin of Chicago, and John Dell Austin of Hope; ten grandchildren, four sisters and brothers, numerous nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Austin was a member of the Walker Street Church of Christ.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

State Board Defends Opinion

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The state Board of Correction defended its opinion that a new women's reformatory should be located away from existing units of the state penitentiary during a meeting here Thursday with the Arkansas Legislative Council.

Some council members are opposed to locating the new reformatory away from the existing units, although none took issue Thursday with the statement given by Marshall Rush, chairman of the Correction Board, that the reformatory should be located near a metropolitan area large enough to provide various services for women inmates.

Rush told the council the board has not visited all the sites under consideration for the reformatory. He said members of the board hoped to visit the sites and have a recommendation for the council within 30 days. The council agreed to the 30-day provision and instructed its Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions Committee to meet with the board before the board meets with the full council again.

The council does not have veto power over the choice of a site, but it is unlikely that the board would choose a site over strong council opposition.

The board has $916,000 in state and federal funds to build a new women's reformatory.

Rush said the Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce had suggested three sites in Pine Bluff for the proposed reformatory. The board also is considering a site at Camp Robinson in North Little Rock.

Black Minister Named to Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. J. H. Corbitt of Little Rock, a black minister and teacher, was named by Gov. Dale Bumpers Thursday to a term on the state Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Corbitt replaces Fred Oakley Jr. of Fordyce, who resigned last month at the request of the governor. At the time, Oakley was the only black on the board.
